FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthening which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery."

It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, sallow or pale in the face, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

APPEARING OLD

Acts as a Bar to Profitable Employment.

You cannot afford to grow old. In these days of strenuous competition it is necessary to maintain as long as possible one's youthful appearance.

It is impossible to do this without retaining a luxuriant growth of hair.

The presence of Dandruff indicates the presence of a burrowing germ which lives and thrives on the roots of the hair until it causes total baldness.

Newbry's Herpicide is the only known destroyer of this pest, and it is as effective as it is delightful to use.

Herpicide makes an elegant hair dressing as well as Dandruff cure.

Accept no substitute—there is none. Sold by leading druggists. Send 50c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Summer Clothing.

The main objects of all summer clothing are to favor the rapid evaporation of bodily heat and at the same time to repel the direct rays of the sun. Various fabrics differ in fulfilling such requirements. Texture and color have also a great deal to do with the results. White absorbs the heat least and reflects it most. Then come the various colors as modifying influences in their due turn—yellow, red, green, blue and black.

As to fabric, the outer garments are best made of cotton or linen, the inner of light and wide-meshed wool. When wool irritates the skin cotton or linen is a second choice. Another advantage of woolen undergarments is that they can be worn of different weights in all seasons. For obvious reasons, then, the first change from heavy to light clothing should be in the outer garments, more particularly as they can be more readily adapted to our frequent changes of climate, even during the summer months.

Perspiration, disagreeable as it is when excessive, is only one of nature's cooling processes. The aim of all light clothing is to give the evaporation the freest possible vent through suitable airy textures. In a certain sense we can get as effective breathing through our skin as through our lungs, at least so far as balancing many of the more important functions of heat equilibrium. In this respect we have the great advantage over the canine tribe in changing our coats and not depending on the forced draft of panting respiratory movements.

Killed His Rival.

Because of jealousy over a pretty young maid employed on the country estate of Col. Ellsworth Van Tassel, at Pleasantville, in the northern part of Westchester county, N. Y. Saturday, George Allen shot and killed his rival for the girl's hand, an employee named James, and then fled.

A posse of farmers chased and cornered the alleged slayer in a stable, and kept guard over him until Under Sheriff Chas. M. Lane and a corps of deputy sheriffs arrived.

This is the third murder which has occurred in Westchester county within a week, and Under Sheriff Lane made a record run in an automobile to capture his man.

The two men, who were employed by Colonel Van Tassel, quarreled about the girl on Friday night.

"I'll put your light out if you don't leave that girl alone," Allen is alleged to have said.

When the men reached the breakfast table Saturday the feud was renewed and James slapped Allen in the face. Allen who had been drinking heavily the night before, went upstairs and got a revolver. He returned and walking up to his man, it is declared, shot him four times. The shooting occurred in the dining-room, and when the Van Tassel family came in they found the table overturned, and the evidences of a struggle.

This maid is said to have favored the dead man.

Hanged and Buried.

A negro who committed a criminal assault on the sixteen-year-old daughter of Ira Robertson, near Womack, Indian Territory, was captured Saturday night, and, after being taken to the scene of the crime, was hanged and buried.

He confessed his guilt and offered no resistance to the mob. The negro gave his name as Cliff Mays, of Marshall, Tex., and also as Will Newbright, of San Antonio.

The negro was overtaken near Bradley by 400 men. It was 3 o'clock yesterday morning when the Robertson home was reached. The negro was brought before Miss Robertson.

"That's the one," said she at once. The negro replied: "Yes, lady, I'm the one. Gentlemen, I admit the crime."

The mob then took the negro to a tree on the bank of Walnut creek. He was given an opportunity to speak, and he again confessed his guilt, and offered a fervent prayer to God for forgiveness. He was then drawn into the air to die by strangulation.

Two hours later the charred body was buried under the tree under the direction of a deputy marshal from Purcell, who had been thwarted in his efforts to take the negro from the mob.

The Creed of Anarchy.

Do not labor, but prey upon society. Do nothing useful, but treat as a criminal, guilty of capital punishment, the one who dares be useful. This is the sum of Berkman's teachings. This is the creed of the unsketchable, who has the incomprehensible nerve to stand by the side of the female of his kind and declare that he will continue his "work for humanity."

How civilization bears with comparative equanimity the presence of such a clean growth is one of the marvels of it. There has not in recent years been a cowardly assassination in high place that was not the work of anarchists, and that did not excite at least disguised expressions of sympathy in this country.

Anarchy slew McKinley, as it attempted the death of the Spanish King and Queen, while in the space between these events it struck many illustrious names from the roster of the living. Nevertheless, the advocates of assassination may hire a hall, utter their wicked and senseless outcry, incite their followers to do murder and their "bravery" is applauded.

Buried Alive.

The Ameer of Afghanistan on returning to Kabul last week, after his prolonged tour, found high prices being charged for grain in the capital, and caused supplies to be issued at cheap rates from the State granary at Bamian.

When the Ameer was about to leave Lughmann for Kabul three months of the courts were brought up for trial for taking bribes and mistreating the poor.

The Ameer gave orders to the Governor that the three months were to be carried alive, and the sentence was duly carried out after the Ameer's departure.

The Ameer proposes to found in the Purnau district a city called after himself. He considers that Kabul is exposed to the danger of foreign invasion, and intends the new city to serve as a refuge in time of emergency.

Nasrullah Khan, his brother, is opposed to the engagement of English women doctors for the royal harem. The Ameer disagrees with his brother, but the weight of opinion is with Nasrullah, and it is hoped that the services of the newly arrived women doctors will before long be dispensed with.

Must Wait Till Prince Weds.

Thousands of the best-looking young women in Korea are languishing in spinsterhood owing to an extraordinary edict of the government.

A year ago the Crown Prince became a widower. Now he has decided to take another wife, and the government officials all over the kingdom have been instructed to forward to Seoul the names and full descriptions of eligible brides.

Meanwhile, instructions have been issued that no young women of the better classes are to be married until the Crown Prince has announced his choice.

The Governors of Kyong Kye, Chungchulla and Kyong Sang dared to disobey the royal edict and allowed their daughters to marry. They have fallen in great disfavor at court in consequence, and are to be severely punished.

You cannot induce a lower animal to eat heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach, once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work for you. It digests what you eat and gives it a rest. Put it back in condition again. You can't feel good with a disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.
